

Types of evidence	Level of support you may receive	Suitable for applying for DSA?
Results of a Neurodiversity Screening	This is not accepted as evidence. If your screening test has indicated a likelihood of an SpLD then you will need to follow this up with a full diagnostic assessment.	No
A letter or other document from your school, college, or previous university detailing previous exam arrangements. This could include a JCQ 'Access Arrangement' form (a 'Form 8') or an EHCP report.	We may recommend a Standard Adjustments Plan for you.  To access further support, you will need to provide further diagnostic evidence from a suitably qualified professional.	No
A psychological assessment report completed by an Educational Psychologist or specialist teacher (with an active Assessment Practicing Certificate – APC) which confirms a diagnosis of a specific learning difficulty, e.g. dyslexia.	We may recommend an individual Student Support Plan for you.	These documents are usually accepted for DSA.

Types of evidence	Level of support you may receive	Suitable for applying for DSA?
A completed DSA 1 form (Disability Evidence Form)	We may recommend an individual Student Support Plan for you.	Yes
A Needs Assessment report carried out as part of an application for Disabled Students' Allowance	We may recommend an individual Student Support Plan for you.	Yes
A letter from GP, consultant or other medical professional	We may recommend an individual Student Support Plan for you.	Yes
Diagnostic report from a registered medical professional	We may recommend an individual Student Support Plan for you.	Yes
A completed City University Medical Evidence Request Form	We may recommend an individual Student Support Plan for you.	No