Day 1 On Campus
Days 2 & 3 Online

Discover the leader in you

15 years
150+ Universities
480+ programmes
27,000+ students

Learn more than what it means to be a leader. Develop your own inclusive leadership skills—explore what it means to cross boundaries and thrive in multiple cultures. Take part in an experiential three-day online programme where you develop the skills needed in the 21st century. You will:

- Hear from and engage with leaders from a range of backgrounds
- Virtually go behind-the-scenes of organisations across different sectors
- Develop solutions to real-life organisational challenges
- Prepare yourself for life after graduation

“I really loved meeting people from a diverse background and being able to talk to people who are studying completely different degrees as me and from different ages! It really felt nice speaking to people again since Covid which was really comforting as well.”

“This program has allowed me to come out of my comfort zone and become more confident, which I would be able to transfer across different aspects of my life. The program was enriching as I am able to take the tips I obtained from the experience will stay with me whatever path I take in the future.”

What is the Future Leader Experience Online?

The programme takes place across three half-days, each involving up to 4 hours of engagement. You participate in a combination of full-group sessions and small breakout sessions, where you build connections with industry leaders and your peers.

You will have one day in person, where you will build a working relationships with the rest of the group. You will then complete days 2 and 3 online, allowing you industry access and real work experience.

You take part in challenging discussions with leaders and virtually go behind the scenes of organisations, gaining hands-on experience through exploring real challenges they face.

Who could you hear from?

During the programme, you will engage with leaders from organisations such as:

- Deloitte
- EY
- Oxfam
- Uber
- United Nations

What organisational challenges have students explored in previous programmes?

- Increasing public trust in banks
- Improving educational standards
- Engaging young people in the arts
- Developing a small charity into a global brand
- Tackling homelessness

How can you showcase your what you learn to future employers?

Upon completion, you will be awarded a digital certificate verifying your participation in the programme. You also have the opportunity to demonstrate your learning by earning the embedded Inclusive Leadership micro-credential, which you can display on your LinkedIn profile and as part of your digital backpack

97% of students from previous programmes would recommend their programme to another person.

A global network

Everyone who finishes a Common Purpose programme joins the Common Purpose alumni network - a 100,000+ strong, growing, global community of our alumni with exceptional diversity and a huge range of skills, interests and leadership experiences.

Some will be very senior, experienced leaders across the public, private and NGO sectors, others will be emerging leaders and some will be fellow students just finishing university. This breadth and depth makes the network unique.
